

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1894

red at the Post-Office at New York as second-

MUSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD

BLD UPTOWN OFFICE-Junction of Broad-Way and Sixth ave. at 22d st. WOELD HARLEN OFFICE-125th st. and Madi-

ROOKLYN-309 Washington st. WASHINGTON-705 14th st.

******** THE WORLD'S CIRCULATION FOR OCTOBER.

AVERAGE PER WEEK DAY. 488,262. AVERAGE PER SUNDAY 332,949.

GAIN OVER LAST YEAR PER WEEK DAY. 45,150. GAM OVER LAST YEAR PER SUNDAY.

76,290.

......

-----:

-05 ning to-night, "The Evening rold" will issue a NIGHT EDITION. ntaining in a condensed form a com lete and accurate record of the day's vents in all parts of the world up to e hour of going to press. This means ore completely told in next morning's papers, for there is very little news of mportance in the morning papers that

The NIGHT EDITION will go to press at the latest hour consistent with but never too late to be delivered or on ie in all parts of the city and suburbs The clock in the evening.

It to hoped that this edition will fill sap in newspaper service that now evening papers and the papers of the next morning.

Who told you set

Tammany Hall is for rent.

Three cheers and-no Tiger! Real Rapid Transit is to be.

Dr. Parkhurst, you're a dalsy Ta-ta, Chicago! We're going up.

Who is left to care for Brockway?

Mr. Goff again took the elevator

New York City's Thanksgiving is sure

The Tiger is in it-"it" being the soup

The Evening World" was right in it Jerry Simpson can return to sockless-orton's under coachman knew how Did Tammany fall down or was i

There wasn't much room left fo

It will probably be difficult for Walte

Any Tammany man will tell how nowed yesterday.

At last reports Texas was still in the

You read it in "The Evening World's" Extras and it was so. Is there any doubt now, that there are be get it? In the neck.

Landslide? Tidal Wave? Why it was a great glacial downheaval!

Will Paddy Diver have to go back to the green goods business?

Brooklyn coyly answers "Yes," and Greater New York is coming.

Hugh J. Grant's popularity has severa me of the prophets went in the snowstorn early last night.

It would be money in pocket to Czar Reed's smile on exhibition.

are all assured. What a day's work!

Constant Reader.—The last previous Manhattan Island, the Supreme Sneeze

omething falling was borne upon Lake them?

'holler,'

The Tammany heads of departments feel very much put out by the result of the election.

Tammany knows how the Chinese felt when they found themselves surrounded at Ping Yang. The other Mr. Sheehan leaves Buffalo rather late. Is he also coming to New York too late?

Mr. Hill has added one more to his list of experiences with stampedes. So ness and disturbed industry. It made has Mr. Grant.

THE GIANT AWARES. Republican institutions never had a

lection in this city. The people are still the people Rings and bosses, fraud and corrup fast with their ropes and cords and pulls government, but when they are finally aroused they do the job with thoroughness and despatch. There never was a cleaner, neater job and not merely putter over it. in revolution than that which the people accomplished in New York City yester-

CHEAP LOAVES AND PULL WEIGHT.

The fight for the reduction in the price of bread, demanded by honest lealing, will assuredly be won, and the victory will be mainly attributable to "The Evening World" The efforts made to secure this advantage, which, however, is only simple justice for the poor of the city, have been persistent and vigorous, and will not cease until the object has been accomplished.

But another evil has to be guarded against. Too little weight is as bad as too much cost. A practical test of the size of the loaves sold for five cents and four cents proves that they are not even now up to the standard weight. So that at present the consumer pays too high and gets too little. Twenty-six loave purchased promisenously by "The Evening World" showed that not one of them reached anything near the weight claimed by the retail bakers for the five-cent loaf.

We must and will have a fair priced oaf of bread for the purchaser and at elevation, Mr. Goff? the same time we must and will have full sized loaf, even if honest weight took place later than the previous even- has to be enforced by law. Why should here not be a regulation weight for for selling under the weight?

THE GREAT REVOLUTION.

It needs no moralizing to point the lesson of yesterday's election. A year ago the people grew disgusted with machine rule and ring dictatioon in the State and in the city. Their revolt gave the State Legislature and the Constitutions Convention to the Republicans, defeated Judge Maynard, revolutionized Brooklyn and sent some prominent Democratic cosses to State prison.

The methods condemned by the people remained unchanged, and their perni-cious tendency was made more glaringly conspicuous than ever by the startling developments of the Lexow Committee's investigation. The heart of every hon est citizen indignantly demanded a change. A system that had become so thoroughly saturated with vice and coruption must be wholly swept away.

Personal character was not to be conidered. The very best candidates con eivable might have been nominated. Good candidates individually were nominated. It made no difference. The fight was against the State machine and the machine, close allies, and

A cleaning out of the stables must fol-low. That is certain. There must be nothing of Tammany left in the new city government. If the laws are in th way of a complete overthrow of the old regime new laws must be enacted to giving. New York is redeemed and will be re make it possible. That is the first step, generated.—The Heraid. What will follow must depend on the delity of the new rulers to their pledges They have promised the people strictly ron-partisan administration; there must be no political bias in their appoint ments or policy. They are pledged to reform alleged extravagance: the expenditures must be decreased and the taxes reduced. They have bound them-selves to give the city clean government; every vestige of blackmail and corruption in the Police Departments and the courts must be removed. Absolute power is in the hands of the #### victors in State and city. Let us hope it will be faithfully and wisely used. EVERYBODY LIKED IT

New Yorkers had a new experience last night. They could buy for a cent something the like of which they had never seen before "The Evening World's" series of election extras was something heretofore en-tirely unknown in journalism.

"The Evening World," being a modest newspaper, does not feel at liberty to en-Apropos of Dick Croker: Where did not as an accurate recorder of events perquisites fall to call attention to the fact that the people bought more than one hundred thousand copies of the extras. This seems to indicate that the extras were excellent # as well as unusual.

Chinese Emperor is going to take some shat I asked I found out so did these thing else away from him, ite has yanked off Li's yellow jacket and threeeyed peacock feather, his old gold lines duster and a few sartorial odds and ends like that, and just what he is going to take now, unless it is Li's head, we can't assess. And all because Li has let the Japs wallop China as no one of the Striped Tiger, do about it? Will he send for his intended vice-roy, Hugh Hill carried Chemung and Schoharie

J. Grant, or his second assistant Grand Vizet, Henry D. Purroy, or any of his catiffs, Divver, Silver Dollar Smith or other individuals of that crowd, and Buffale and Brie County 12,000 plurality

Buffale and Brie County 12,000 plurality

He probably would if they had any When the great American people gets governors have nothing to lose—they jost ready to speak, sometimes, how it does everything at the polls yesterday. So poor, ctd Li Hung Chang will have to go to Pekin alone.

THE REWARD OF PERFIDY The Democratic party in the nation today suffers a somewhat unjust but inevitable punishment for its failure to carry out the mandate of the people. It was put in power two years ago to re-It did it after a fashion

It fooled and pattered with it. It talk-ed and squabbled and wrangled about it. It stirred up distrust and discontent in all parts of the country. It paralyzed busi-everybody uncomfortable and itself un-And then it surrendered its principles at the demand of agang of bribed blackmailnobler vindication than in vesterday's ers in the Senate, and accepted a compromise which the great mass of the people onsidered perfidious and dishonorable. For its misdeeds and misfortunes the tion, negligence and partisanship may people have wreaked vengeance upon it. promptly and efficiently, in accordance with the will of the people, the friction midgets of peanut politics may bind him and distress inseparable from tariff and tricks, but the awakening comes at less prolonged, while the consequent wave of prosperity, now barely perceptible, The people will endure much rather would have been by this time at its flood, than go to the trouble of apsetting their to bear its creators to a new success. The lesson is a bitter one, but it will have good results. The next Congress elected to reform the tariff will reform it

> "The Evening World's" picture, "Tammany's Moving Day," was the talk of Yo everybody who bought the best extra so Johnny Simpson was hit with a brief yesterday, but there were not enough votes tied to it to elect him to Congress.

The canary bird has swallowed th tiger, and the bird doesn't seem to feel the least bit uncomfortable over it.

Police Justices Hogan, Koch will have plenty of time to vindicate themselves in a little while.

"The Evening World" extra edition last night were quite up to date, as usual on such occasions.

Reform measures passed by the Legislature next year will not meet a veto in

The elevator was in good running or ler yesterday. How do you like th Jimmy Martin used to drive a car. He helped to drive the nails in Tammany's coffin yesterday. Johnny Sheehan will soon be leaving Well, Johnny, here's your hat, what's your hurry?

BY NEW YORK EDITORS.

It would be impossible to exaggerate the es of John W. Goff to the citizens of New York. who yesterday elected their champion to the high and honorable office of Recorder.—The press.

o rule -- The Tribune.

Now may the people of this city give them

HOW THEY MAY EXPLAIN.

Hughey Grant-It was Croker's malaria. Paddy Divver-Wot can you expect wid Te ulaky t'rowin' me down and so many good oody Bridles" Waite-The bridle slipped and lost my stirrup.

Jerry Simpson-This co E Ellery Anderson-It is another of the in-

F. C. Coudert-Who burned that bridge behind Mr. Croker--Where did I get it? Mayor Gilroy-It was because

David B. Hill-It was the letter trusting the people to cast their own votes. This new Ballot law sin't my sort. Tom Grady-We were watched Joe Koch-Croker kept too much of it. Andy White-It was base ingratitude. Was it for this that I swopped an $8,000 Police Justices

Phil Wissig-There is link in getting out i Johnny Simpson-Topiain mechin. I'm aft

Tim Complett-It was former my down who Li Hung Chang has been called to Ghest of Tweed-I know all mount it. What Pekin. This protectly means that the were the people going to do about it. while That's

Links tp to His Name.

The Pointo Bux and his wife walked for a time in ellence. "My dear," she remarked at last, taking cognizance of his air of abstraction, let the Japs wallop China as no one nation has heretofore, in modern days, walloped another.

Li is a marked man. But is he the only one? Tammany got a drubbing yesterday the like of which was never dreamed of. What will the ruler of Manhattan Island, the Supreme Sneezer link cognizance of fits air of abstraction, which was been demanded to that distinguished foreign family with the ancient name. Are you not glad? The eyes of the Doryphora Lineath was war with tears. While was all he said, why? asked his mother. Why? and turned away.

thips Come High.

(From an Exchange.) Mrs. Wigglestein-Do you know, Jack think I should like to learn to play poker. It must be a fascinating game. smite them with withering glances of don't think of it for a moment. We can't the story is displacated will he is to punish both afford to play.

han, the blue-eyed, that a noise as of them by taking anything away from DRAMATIONEWSAND NOTES "The Evening World's" Gallery of Manager Whitney Escapes the Usual Comic Opera Troubles -- May

Y the's Success. Manager Whitney has not yet begun o lose flesh in his comic-opera struggles, although he has some pretty severe as yet manifested no ill-temper, and everything goes along smoothly in "The Fencing Master" and "Jacinta"-which, by the bye, opens its season in Philadelphia next Monday. When the cold spell somes, and the fair ingers begin to get indisposed-then Manager Whitney anticipates some liveepisodes-and he will probably get them. So far, this season-the most wonferini season for comic opera that Ameris a has experienced in years has been remarkably good for Whitney. Roy" has "caught on" very decidedly and at both the performances yester day the Herald Square was crowded of England. His name is Mornington "Jacinta" will stay for two weeks in Cannon-a picturesque enough name for Philadelphia, and will then open at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Two weeks are held for it there, and this time may be extended should the opera make a very decided hit. Manager Whitney said yesterday that he had not given up hopes of luring Calve back to this country, but he had heard nothing from her, and believed that she was seriously iii. "We were all right on the question of terms," he said, "and I sent contracts to her in Europe to sign, but she has not returned them, nor has she notified me in any way as to her intentions. She may come, but I should not be surprised if America never saw her again." Philadelphia, and will then open at the a prime minister.

May Yohe has apparently made a hit as "The Lady Slavey" in England. The versatile May is singing a facetious ditty entitled, "It is hard to love, and say fare well." Hat Hat and likewise He! He! In the several matrimonial episodes in which the beautiful lady figured so conspicuously in this country Miss Yohe didn't seem to find love so excessively difficult, while, as for the saying of farewell, she was quite an adept at it. But, of course, the song has no such significance. Still, Miss Yohe must chuckle in her sleeves as she artlessly sings it. . . .

It is said that an energetic manufac-turer of soap has written to Mrs. Potter and Kyrle Bellew offering them a great inancial inducement if they will adver-tise his wares in the third act of "Charlotte Corday," when Charlotte stabs Marat in his bath. "Marat uses such-and-such a soap" is all that this gentleman asks for on the programmes.

With one or two exceptions the elec-With one or two exceptions the election day matinees were very dismal yesterday. People didn't seem to take kindly to the idea of heatrical entertainment. The attendance at one or two of the houses would hardly have paid gas bills, and the ushers wore countetances expressive of intense apprehension. Miss Nethersole had a good house, so did "Shenandosh" and "Rob Roy.
The upper parts of the theatres were more populous than the lower portions.

Fanny Davenport is getting in her actors by the ton-like coal-for the production of her new Sardou play. She refused to engage a number of people because they were neither portly nor adipose. This is unfortunate, because it has been noticed that Isrge and beefy people are not usually the best actors. It is the small, meagre folks as a general thing, who possess the keenest dramatic intelligence, and it is these people who suffer so much on this account. A man who is tall stout and fairly good looking is always sure of an engagement, no matter how bad an actor he may be. He is in great demand for the position of leading man in the companies of stellar actresses, who consider that a love scene with an Armand or a Romeo who is under six feet in height is absurd and unimpressive.

Louise Montague—the dear old $10,000 heauty of Barnum's show—is in Boston with a pleasing classic called "Off the Earth." Miss Moutague has been interviewed, and you'll be pleased to hear that she likes America, but she has this to say of it: "I am not hard on the American public. Why should I be? I have always been most cordially received and most beautifully treated. But I see the same spirit of indolence in all affairs. It is easier to go in the swim than to try to make headway against it. When once the American public takes it into its head to do its book-reviewing, or to sit in ludgement itself

Neil Burgess says that his theatre will be in Thirty-fourth street, and if it is anything like the very ornamental picture that hangs upon his wall it will certainly grace that thoroughfare Burgess has not done any acting this season. His "County Fair" is on the road with Miss Rates as Abigail Prue, and apparently she gives complete satisfaction.

Thirty baskets of costumes and 3,30 cubic feet of scenery will appear at Abbey's Theatre to-night. They will be supported by Miss Lillian Russell and her chubby damsels, and they will be used to beautify the comic-opera en-titled "The Queen of Brilliants."

Digby Bell voted yesterday for the first time in his life, and was as delighted as a child with a new toy. A number of actors went to the polisthanks to the good work of Burr McIntosh, who deserves much credit for what he has done. Mr. McIntosh was very much pleased with the result of his efforts. He believes that the dramatic profession can become a power.

They say that "A Trip to Chinatown" has at last conquered the Londoners. It has been "over-hauled, lopped off, amplified and straightened out." One of its new specialties is a skit on the latest London sensation, "Prudes on the Prowi."

WORLDLINGS.

It is estimated that fully $2,000,000 human belings have periated in earthquakes since the be-ginning of resorded history.

The humble but fruitful colum plant of the Theatrical Billboard of the Future outh grows to be a tree in Feru, and comercimes ware for fitty years. The first book printed in America came from press in the City of Mexico in 1505. It was a bringle look of develors

A Youthful Mexander.

A friend of mine has a little boy who ias just reached that are where he is nteresting. The other afternon he was looking very much downcast and his mother asked him what the trouble was.

Thought She Couldn't See. (From the Pall Mal! Garette.) She-How dare you kiss me, sir?

He-I'm awfully sorry, but-why did She—And pray, sir, how did I

AN ENGLISH OPINION. Charles Beresford Fears American Free Trade.

(From an article on "Possibilities of an Anglo-universal free trade, it is possible that eventu-at it. But, of course, the song has hosted as significance. Still, Milks yother must chuckle in her sleeves as she artlessly sings it, with guilible London at her feet. One enthusiastic Englishman says that Yohe is the best comic opera boy that London has seen since the days of Neille Farren.

"Mme. Sans-Gene," the new play by Angustus Piton—and-er-a fellow by the name of Sardon—has been very well received in Washington. Jerome Eddy went there was the author to see the piece, and he liked it very much apparently. Mr. Pitou, by the way, is not interested in the play to be presented by Milks Fanny Davenbort. That was evolved by-er-the fellow by the name of Sardou, without Pitou's assistance.

It is said that an energetic manufacture of the single power was for the most part unknown to them. How do matters stand the present time? Not only see the working classes educated, but the future of the empire is absolutely in their hands, owing to the political power which they now possess.

Although the United States would undoubtedly gain by such an alliance, it cannot be denied for a moment that Great Britain would be by at the greater gainer of the two particularly. this country during the last hundred years? These riches have to a very great extent been gain by such an alliance, it cannot be dealed for a moment that Great Britain would be by far the greater gainer of the two, particularly

It is much to be feared that in the time co ing when the United States may adopt the policy of free trade, and also build up, as she has ap parently commenced to do, a navy sufficient fo ber peeds, it might not be worth her while to undertake the responsibilities of an alliance with Great Britain. Now is the time to bring about the alliance, when its advantages are apparent to might or might not remain the workshop of the world, but anyhow, she will less and less be and within her shores.

The Recorder Elect. (Air: "I'm the Emperor of Japau.")

From men of every port Obedience I expect

But I'm the new Recorder-stee He shouldn't have run Against the Recorder-elect

My judgment has been declared But it's nothing at all to be compared in a fatherly kind of way.

All cheerfully own my sway The Tiger he'll stone. In a way of his own, This new Recorder-elec

My rulings have all been right;

Compared to the new Recorder-elect, To the new Recorder-elect!

Obedience I expect I'm the ruler of the court-

As Tammany's con He shouldn't have run Against the Recorder-elect.

Particularly correct.

With those of the new Recorder-elect.

To the new Recorder-elect!

A Brilliant Example. (From the Washington Star.)
"I see by the paper," said Mrs. Corn-tossel, "that Senator Sorghum is comin" ining at remarked history.

Easter will occur unusually early next year—
March 25.

Innie Dur 'double stars' were known to astimis Dur 'double stars' we throm Texas Siftings.

SOME SWIFT STENOGS.

But 225 Words a Minute Is Much More Than Many of Them Can Write.

There have lately been no many letters fro disappointed stemographers that I feel impelled to write to see if my words, based on the personal experience of many years and the experience cuinent stenographers, may not suffice to deter many roung women from taking up the study of a profession for which they are fitted neither by tural qualifications not by education. The cause mployment is not far to seek. The Government report on this subject for 1897 states that there i and such is the case. Such stenographers (sic serve only to lower the grade of the profession and to bring it into disreputs. But there is a demand for women of ladylike appearance and good address, who can spell, punctuate, write from ninety to a hundred words per minute b transcribe them on the typewriter correctly: who know enough not to repeat the same mistaker who, in brief, are intelligent, industrious and healthy, and who are endowed with that rare quality which is called common sense. Above all they must be without fear of hard work. The great majority of young women who have inflicted stenography upon themselves and upon the labor market, seem to think that "anybody can learn stenography," and they take it up because it i The minry that such a lot of u ned people have inflicted upon the profession L. C. L. JORDAN. Assistant Secretary Cooper Union.

Pig Work for the Hands

fo the Editor

The highest rate of speed ever attained is 200 words a minute. This is supposed to the result of the most rapid movements the human hands are capable of. The person makir this record maintained this speed for only four consecutive minutes, and has never been able to exceed this limit. Assuming the words average gers are raised to a height of two inches from th keyboard. Two inches aided for the descending movement, make the fingers travel four inches before each letter is struck. So this expert's hands in writing these 200 words travelled 4.800 iches, or 400 feet during the minute he wrote 200 words. (But this is very unusual, of course Very rapid writing is a speed of 75 words a mir ute. Even this is very rare, for it is too fast for omfort. Practical work is ten pages of lega paper an hour; each page contains 300 Six hours steady writing can be regarded as an minute, and a practical writer writes during the finger travels four inches to make each lette during the day, it travels 432,000 inches. Th end it is fair to increase this distance by on hird to estimate the distance the hands trave The total sum in inches is 576,000. This is equi alent to 48,000 feet, or a little over nine miles a day. In a week the hands cover 54 miles, and in year's steady application to business over 2,80 266 East Tenth street.

Sandow Couldn't Stand It.

to the Editor: Writing 225 words per minute in stenograph and typewriting 300 letters in six hours would be a severe strain which no human being could stand, even though he were atrong. I have welthree letters in five minutes, but these were all alike and contained about 150 words each. Have also written about 200 words per minute. But in both instances only kept it up for a period of thirty minutes. Again I say ing into consideration others, it is simply in musible. Let all come forward and show wh an be done in this line, and also what has been done. When we hear of miracles belo and try to follow in their lead. ONE OF THEM

Must Be a Mistake. To the Editor: II. K." regarding speed in a young man who claims to write 225 words per minute and form and write 300 business lefters in six hours. This must be a mistake, for I can hardly conceive anything so rapid. It is almost out of the que for a week but several weeks and months and to his landlord. Besides this, he pays of words per minute, with several things on his aver years, and I always found time to may rect tax to the general government atm. to understand how he gets his paper set and everything attached to the typewriter in working order in the time stated.

Can He Do the Kay Stems?

o the Editor: cannot write 225 Kay stems in one minute, and tinary letters in the six hours specified.

T. CORNELL, M., an expert.

This is the picture of a sixth-story window, out of which a man jumped a

The Men We've Elected This Full. (Air: "The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring."

Tracks
Bring promise of needed reform;
We we can then how one and all, We give them a greeting quite warm, Tra-ia. While the Ther's turned out in the storm. And that's what we mean when to office we Old Tammany's fees we've elected this Pail.

The Sachema-Tra-la. Have brought Tammany into disgrace; We name of us like 'em at all.

Tra-la-la-la-la-la, &c.

The men we've elected this Fall,

They make us all feel very small, .Tra-la, For the Tiger's knocked out in the race. And that's what we mean when we yolp and

Hoo hoo, hoe, hoo, hoo, hoo, de

Novel Overcoat for a Boy. This is quite a novel overcoat for little boys, made in rough scarlet cloth, with very full plaited skirts at the back. Black velvet is used for the roll collar, as well as for the pockets, the cuffs and the buttons. These smart little scarlet coats range in price from 29s. 6d., and are frequently sold to wear with a # jockey cap and a pair of neat gaiters.

Children of Famous Women. Among famous women who were childless or the mothers of few children and with uniform success. This being were Mme. George Sand, who had two children, a son and daughter: Mme, de early married life-one after her second marriage; Elizabeth Barrett Brown ing, who had only one son; Mrs. Somerville, the astronomer, who had three children, though twice married. George fliot was childless, and so was Mrs Craik (Miss Muldch), and Mrs. Barbauld.

Needle-Worked Sateen Cornets. An attractive black corset is the fancy sateen. The material made for the trade omes in a variety of stripes. There are single lines in white, pink, blue and yellow, and clusters of two, three and five lines. When the corset is stitched and ready for the bones it goes to the emproidery room, where disks, crescents. stars, crystals and flower patterns are hand or machine stitched with floss The weavers' and decorators' work is so cleverly done that it is difficult to tell stand out prominently and are padded ten inches from a satin corset.

Children of Paris.

Those wee vagabonds picked up in the streets, parks and boulevards of Paris, the calamities and catastrophies of a lay, aggregate between 8,000 and 9,000 year. At the expiration of ten days, if unclaimed, they become the children of Paris, and are not unkindly treated. LETTERS.

tion to over a subject of general interest to discuss put the idea into less than 100 words. Long letters unnot be printed. ]

(This column is open to everybody who has a to the Editor: "A Young Salesman" says if I was a "sales-man in a shoe store for one week." I would find that I had no time to greet customers pleasantly, &c. I have been a clerk and salesman in the mose business, wholesale and retail, not only pays a tax of $2 per a re in the shape of rent for a week but several weeks and months and to his landlord. Besides this, he pays an indimorning" to my customers and treat time he buys any article for dozen pairs of shoes!" I am now a travelling have to pay under the single-tax system, but salesman, and flatter myself I am popular with simply the $2 (probably less) per acre on the my customers, for they treat me cordially and land; and this $2 would go into the public treatgive me their orders cheerfully. He says he ury, instead of into the pocket of one man. As 'thinks salesmen talk enough while trying to sell' without greeting everybody with "What on account of the removal of all indirect taxes, ran I do for you, sir!" That's just the trouble—would be better able to pay 12 per acre for the property of the best best of the pocket of one man. As nearly everything he had to buy would be cheaper of the property of the would be better able to pay 12 per acre for the property of the best best of the property of the propert most of them have altogether too much talk his land than he is now.

"trying to sell." I can sell goods without keeping my tongue wagging every minute, and I had one of my bes' customers say to me the other day as another salesman went out, "That man rill never sell me anything, he talks me to death," and imediately gave me my order when I had only said "Good morning" to him. "A Young Salesman" did well to sign himself young

-he shows he is young, very young and I trust CUSTOMER.

Tammany Salaries Go On. city official continues when he is absent from his upon the proper adjustment of said gloves. Every eye in the car is riveted upon the lady's hands as if every life depended upon the proper adjustment of said gloves. And have you never noticed when you take out your more, that day's wages are deducted from his ray.

Another Blessin.

Another Blessin.

Some can eat that ha'e nae meat. But I can eat and I ha'e meat, So let the Lord be thankit."

E. A. M., Jr.

To the Editor: In answer to "Ignorance, Dallas, Tex.," this is That Factory Is a Fiction. Is it true that eggs have been manufactured b achinery for the market? I am told that #### factory was, within the past few years, employed in this industry in New Jersey. EUGEN ZIMMERMANN. Mr. Barou's Blue Point of View.

I have been greatly amused at the replies to was uncalled for. For their information I would years and upward, and during this time could day is either a fool or a knave. I am an American, but I am also saliamed to see the condition "rocky." All that he can do is to get some that our country is in. We are confronted to-day article and turn to and present it for sale, make with an army of unemployed. More than three ing $1 or nothing per day, as young men are millions of men and women, dependent upon wanted for salaries of $6 a week, and not age! millions of men and women, dependent upon their daily labor for food, clothing and shelter, are without work. About a million of these are tramping over the country in search of employ-ment, and begging for bread. Honest toll alone insures a life of poverty. A man who is thrown To the Editor: out of work and is compelled to wander around in search of employment is a "tramp," yet he is being arrested daily and sent to prison—and it is now a living ile. Ninety per cent. of the people who produce the wealth have no wealth, no home they can call their own beyond the date to which they have paid their rent. They

It is remarkable how economically these tiny stragglers are reared. The pays $60 for the board, clothing and care of a baby the first year; $48 the second year, and $36 annually until the age of thirteen years, when it is apprenticed and becomes self-supporting If the poor little lamb gets weary of earth and goes back to heaven, the body is sent to the medical college connected with the Foundling Asylum, and interred at an expense to the Department

Bagdad Cushions.

Bagdad cushions have come to add themselves to the already well-known and always delightful couch covers and portieres. These last are large and ample. as Eastern pillows are sure to be. are very similar to the stripes, and are finished with a fringe made of their own ravelled threads. Altogether, they are useful and heartily welcome. They put to shame by their very being the ab-surdities of lace and chiffon, and teach a silent lesson as to what a pillow can be and should be. They are designed for use, and they will withstand even hard isage. They are serviceable. They are decorative. They tempt one to repose, and they so fulfill in themselves all the requirements of a cushion, while they nave the added advantage of comparative

Women as Architects.

Why are there not more women architects? It is a profession that seems pecultarly fitted to them, while they know, as few men can, exactly what a house should be. In a certain village a rich widow, who owns a great many houses. has planned every one of them herself done with no training for it, one wonder what would be the result of study.

A Pretty Photograph Holder.

An extremely decorative and yet very cutting a piece of stiff canvas ten by and pale green slik. Embroider a design on the outside. Bend in half. Tie loosely together with narrow office ribbons and fasten others at the open top b which to suspend it. Is the Bustle Coming Back! The first step towards the revival of the bustle has been taken.

past. The skirt is very full, lined with haircloth, and arranged in four or two box plaits at the back. These plaits ten inches from the waist line. Over the hips the skirt fits with glove-like shown in the new organ-pipe skirt. It is the skirt of the season, and resembles in a marked degree the bustle of the othness, flaring towards the bottom Caller and Host in Spain. Ladies seldom rise in Spain to receive male visitor, and they rarely accompany him to the door. For a Spaniard to give a lady-even his wife-his arm while out walking is looked upon as a have no portion of the earth which they are free to use, without paying tribute to some landler he compelled to occupy. They are only a little distance from absolute destitution, want and ### for its use. They have nothing of value of any many times in places which a box could hardle violation of propriety.

misery, and a . w days of enferred idleness brings them face to face with hunger and charity's soup foint. W. H. BARON, Newark, N. J. It Is an Indirect Tax. Editor: Answering "Farmer." I would say that he wee Observed in a Street Car. To the Editor: A close observer of the human race finds of the time hang heavy on his hands. For instance in taking a long ride in a street car it in the teresting to watch the specimens who happen to be your travelling companions. Observe the lady who enters hastily and immediately falls into somebody's lap; then darts an angry glance at her victim, as if to say. "How dare you sirt" Again, a handsomely-dressed lady enters and, being scated, proceeds to put on a brand-new

To the Editor: the Editor:
In answer to 'Ignorance, Dallas, Tex.,' this is form of blessing that he might teach his salary. They have eight hours' work; they are never in danger; they are public servants and are paid well for services rendered. Letter-carriers cannot compare themselves to policomea, who are compelled to carry their lives in their hands, especially in some of the rough localities of this city, and are liable to be disfigured, maimed or even killed. I am not connected with the Department in any way. those who risk their lives to protect our property. Piremen and policemen have made records which entitle them to retirement with pensions. Let our carriers be satisfied, and no

The Old Man's Only Hope.

To the Editori: sixty years of age fluds it hard and difficult to my letter in a re-ent lesse. The abuse by "An get work, that no one wants him, &c., the American Worklogman," and "Ben Costive." presumption is that he has worked for forty y that I am no "Anarchist." Any man that is have saved $100 a year, which would enable him thated with the conditions of this country toones who are too smart for the employers.

AMERICAN OF FIFTT.

Red Pepper for Red Ants.

A short while ago one of your readers wante remedy for red ants. I was troubled for long time with them, but a friend advised me t put cayenne pepper in the corners of my pent-in fact in any corner where they gathered. did so and have lived six years in the same pine